

DG Technology's SECURITY AWARENESS TRAINING

Drop your human security risk from 50% to 4% with DG Technology's best-in-class, custom Security Awareness Training

With phishing and vishing scams evolving almost daily to new levels of sophistication, ensuring your company is protected from the world's seemingly endless security threats is paramount to your business' safety. An investment in security awareness training through DG Technology mitigates threats from potential scammers that, if successful, would have far-reaching implications for your business. An untrained employee may unwittingly pass on a phishing scam or fall victim to a vishing attempt that could leave your customers or your business data vulnerable to fraudulent use. DG Technology's Security Awareness Training offers a fully managed, fully customizable program designed to increase awareness and ultimately change the behaviors of end-users to ensure your business stays protected.

Explore the BENEFITS

A Proven Methodology for Mitigating Risk

DG Technology's proven methods include baseline testing to evaluate your current security risks, in-person employee training, web-based security training, refined and individualized testing options, and a custom tool designed for end-users to alert your company of any potential phishing or vishing attempts.

In-Depth Custom Security Training Solutions

DG Technology offers custom security training solutions for all companies based on specific business needs. DG Technology will work with you to tailor its security training program to align with your company's individual goals, match company culture, and meet any industry standards or regulations. All security training programs come with regular feedback that includes reports, reviews, and testing results.

Security Training is Right for Your Business

DG Technology's program offers a great solution for companies who want to improve current security training, but lack the bandwidth to oversee the implementation of new protocols and programs, companies who are held to specific regulations and requirements for security awareness training, and companies who simply want to do better and offer a more secure environment and experience.

ALMOST 50% OF NEW CLIENTS FAIL BASELINE TESTING, LEAVING THEIR BUSINESS VULNERABLE TO PHISHING ATTEMPTS

All new clients are set up with an initial baseline security test so DG Technology can evaluate current security awareness. 34-48% of new customers fail our initial baseline phishing test. After the introductory Town Hall and initial training, that metric falls to 13-18% failure. After six months, failure rates hover around 8-10%, and within one year of DG Technology's training, the failure rate falls as low as 2-4%.

Reduce Human Security Risk From 50% to 4% In Less Than One Year

With DG Technology's Security Awareness Training and in-depth custom methods, companies consistently see human security risk drop from 50% to 4% within less than one year of implementing the program.

Your In-House Security Training May Not Be Enough

Whether your business is bound by regulations like HIPAA, GLBA, or PCI, or you're concerned about a potential data breach, trusting your Security Awareness Training to DG Technology makes sense. Many in-house solutions seem like a good option, but without the proper time and resources dedicated to training, you're simply putting a band-aid on the problem, and band-aids eventually fall off. In-house solutions often lack the time, resources, tools, or the proper skill set that's needed to not only understand all potential threats, but to teach employees how to identify and manage these constantly evolving threats.

Keep Your Current Tools in Place

When you choose DG Technology to run your security awareness training, you can keep your current tools in place while still avoiding common security pitfalls and reducing your risk of vulnerability. DG Technology will manage your current tools, while providing a holistic program developed with best-in-class proven methods to ensure your company stays as secure as possible through training, testing, and reporting. This helps free up your team to work on other initiatives to drive your business forward, while offering the peace-of-mind that comes from knowing your business is protected.
